

Series Starts Today on Proposed Sewer Election

Bond Issue Cost, Need To Be Given

Residents to Vote
March 19 on Plan
Costing $3,850,000

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles which will be published by The Desert Sun on the $3,850,000 Sewer Bond election, scheduled to come before the voters on March 19.)

By FRED C. WEIGEL
For the total sum of $3,850,000 the City of Palm Springs can have a complete sewer program, and on March 19 the issue will be put to the vote of residents and home owners in this community.

This series of articles, which will explain both sides of the proposed bond issue program, will appear in The Desert Sun between now and the election. If any resident or home owner has a question as to any particular part of the bond election, they can write their inquiries to this newspaper or the Citizens Committee on the Sewer Bond election, or they can call the committee or the Director of Public Works, City of Palm Springs.

THE LARGEST NUMBER of inquiries to date have concerned two matters—Why is it for such a large amount, and what will it cost us as property owners?

A sewer plan for a community is something that very few persons discuss, consequently it is difficult to get into a pro and con argument of it, but to a growing community, it is a very important and vital utility.

THE PLAN HERE, drawn by the engineering firm of Foulke, Crist, and Brodie, was in itself expensive, but it is agreed that it is a well engineered proposal. It calls for the construction of a new plant main lines throughout the Village, and a complete network of neighborhood lines in the populated areas.

According to Frank Hamerschlag, director of public works for the City of Palm Springs, this plan was selected over the apparently more simple plan of just the plant and main lines, because of eventual lower cost. "If the city built a plant and put in only the main lines," Hamerschlag said, "the city would have to be formed and connect into the sewer. This would cost a great deal more than an overall plan, and it would take many years for the project to get caught up with the growth," Hamerschlag explained.

THE ENTIRE sanitation project, as proposed in the March 19 bond election, will cost $3,850,000, and money will be secured from general obligation bonds.

These bonds will be paid back over a period of 30 years, by two separate payment setups—a service charge and an ad valorem tax. A minimum sewer charge of $1.85 per month for presently sewered areas and $2.60 per month for areas to be sewered, will be levied.

ON TOP OF THIS charge, a second, an ad valorem tax of 28 cents

THIS CRACK IS ONE of a score around the present wall of the clarifier at the Palm Springs sewage plant. If the proposed bond issue passes on March 19, this system will be changed and new clarifiers will be built. The cost of $3,850,000 will be returned by residents and property owners through a monthly sewer charge and ad valorem tax of 28 cents per $100 assessed value at the start, pro-rating to zero cents in 10 years. (Desert Sun Photo).

per $100 assessed valuation will be levied, and this tax will be added to the tax rate. It will gradually reduce every year for 10 years, with the tax rate becoming zero in the tenth year.

At the same time, when the tax rate is no longer assessed against the populace, the service charge will be equalized throughout the city and held at a minimum of $1.85 per month.

IT MIGHT BE WELL to say that the service charges are dependent upon the number of fixtures in the building of any given user. They will be rated in this manner—bathrooms, 2 units; laundry tubs or clothes washers, 2; showers, 2; sinks, 1; garbage disposals, 6; and water closets, 6.

These units are for residential uses only. Theoretically, a two bathroom home will contain about 22 units and cost $2.50 per month in presently sewered areas or $3.75 in areas to be sewered. A 10 unit apartment house contains approximately 114 units, and will cost $8.50 a month in already sewered areas and $12.75 in others. In hotels of this size it will cost about $1 less per month under the same number of units.

The election on March 19 will be the second proposal brought before the voters, with the last one losing by a narrow margin. One of the major points brought out after the last election was that the bond issue did not call "for a complete sewer system."

Four persons were injured, one critically, in a two car smash on Highway 99 just east of North Indian Avenue yesterday afternoon. In critical condition at Desert Hospital is Justin S. Burke, 66, of Oceanside, who suffered major chest fractures when he was tossed from his auto by the impact of the crash.

SERIOUSLY INJURED were Burke's wife, Marta, 64, who is in fair condition; and Mr. and Mrs. George Hilbig, ages 54 and 63, of Surf City, N. J., both passengers in the Burke car. Hilbig is in good condition while his wife is reported as fair.

California Highway Patrolmen said the two couples had visited Desert Hot Springs and were en route to Banning, Burke, driver of the auto, missed the westbound Highway 99 ramp of Indian Avenue, crossed the overpass and entered the eastbound lanes of Highway 99.

HE ATTEMPTED to turn into the westbound lanes at the first crossover and was slammed in the rear by an auto driven by Edward James Henning, 48, of Panorama City. Henning was unhurt.

The impact spun the Burke car around and hurled it to the center of the highway divider, throwing Burke and Hilbig to the pavement.

Hilbig suffered a crushed back and multiple lacerations while his wife received a crushed chest and internal injuries. Mrs. Burke is under treatment for chest fractures and internal bleedings. Hospital officials said her husband's injuries were complicated by a bad heart.

Absentee Ballot Deadlines Set
Palm Springs' traveling residents may apply for absentee ballots for the March 19 municipal sewer bond election between the dates of Feb. 27 and March 14.

Deadline for receipt of absentee ballots by the city clerk is March 25.

Israeli Cabinet Fails to Agree On Answer to Eisenhower Talk

Taxable Sales Up $2 Million In Quarter

Sales for Final
Period of 1956
Total $9,327,925

Palm Springs cash registers jingled a happy tune of prosperity in the last three months of 1956 as the resort's taxable sales ranged almost $2 million above the high-level business recorded for the same period of 1955.

Shelby V. Langford, the city's director of finance, reported today that a total of 564 business establishments tallied sales amounting to $9,327,925 in October, November and December.

THE SAME THREE months of 1955 registered $7,430,193 worth of business handled by 528 establishments.

The figures based on the city's comparative statements of sales tax receipts from resort outlets brought the total business receipts for the last six months of 1956 to $12,731,904, as compared with $10,276,651 in 1955.

Which means that Palm Springs residents and visitors bought more clothing, jewelry, general merchandise food and liquor than ever before.

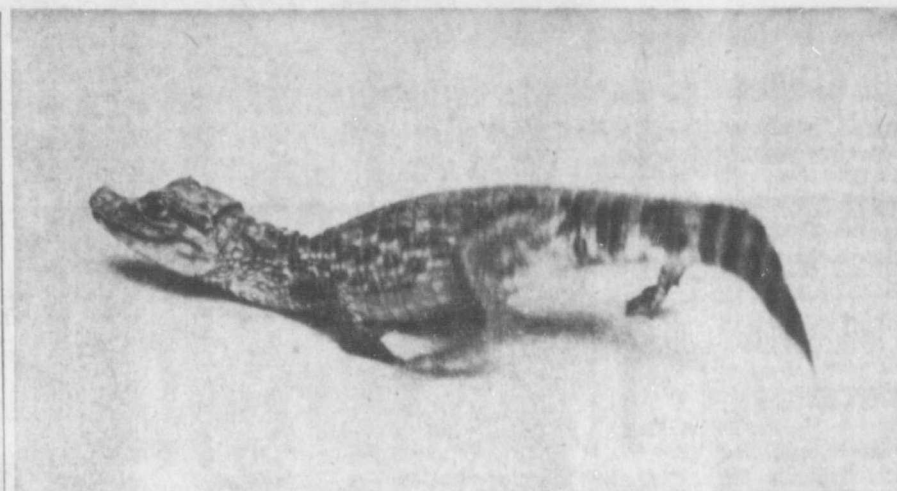

A MARKED increase was noted in the baubles, bangles and beads department. Jewelry stores reported $69,057 in taxable sales for the last 1956 quarter and $62,188 for the last 1955 quarter.

Booming village builders pounded about $400,000 more worth of nails than in '55, while the city's garages and service stations noted an increase of less than $400.

Villagers and visitors alike spent a healthy share of their earnings augmenting their wardrobes. Clothing and shoe sales from 59 outlets reported receipts were $1,154,659 for the final '56 quarter, slightly less than $1,000,000 above the previous year's figure.

APPARENTLY hungrier and thirstier than they were in 1955, these same citizens doled out $2,137,723 in 81 establishments for the same 1955 period.

Since they had more homes to live in, Villagers bought more furniture to sit upon, spending $424,068 for home furnishings in 45 stores, an increase of about $80,000 over last year's figure.

JUST A HOMELESS WAIF is this cantankerous alligator, who was practically "abandoned" on the doorstep of Palm Springs' Desert Museum. Museum Director C. E. Smith is anxious to see the last of the snapping monster. He's really only 11 inches long but his fast-snapping jaws make up for any lack of size. (Desert Sun Photo).

New Historical Society Head To Be Selected

The Palm Springs Historical Society now exhibiting a collection of early Village mementos, will elect a new chairman at 3 p.m. this afternoon.

Society directors are meeting at 3 p.m. at the Palm Springs Library branch, 1146 South Palm Canyon Drive, home of the historical organization.

THE NEW CHAIRMAN will replace Melba Bennet, first Society chairman, who is now on an extended tour of Europe.

Currently on display at the library branch is an exhibit of pictures and mementos of early Palm Springs personalities. The exhibit includes snapshots and paintings, dated about 1905, by artist Carl Eytel.

Other items include photostatic copies of minutes from an 1896 school board meeting, snapshots of the McKinney family, taken after their home burned down in 1923, and many other similar bits of nostalgia.

NEW EXHIBITS may be viewed Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 6 p.m. Anyone interested in joining the society, an auxiliary of the Woodward Memorial Library, is invited to participate in gathering and preserving historical records of early Village life.

Museum Head Hep, Hopes To Say 'See You Later 'Gator'

Palm Springs Desert Museum officials today became the unwilling foster "parents" of a pint-sized waif abandoned on the lawn of a Village hotel.

But Museum Director C. E. Smith isn't the least bit happy about the prospects of caring for the founding-snapping, cantankerous, 11-inch bundle of fighting alligator.

"I DON'T KNOW who he belongs to," Smith remarked, testily poking a finger into the bucket holding the little monster. "But I wish they'd come and claim him."

He hastily withdrew the finger as br'er Alligator's jaws snapped in the spot occupied by the inquisitive digit.

"We don't handle things like this," Smith said. "Lizards yes, alligators no."

SMITH EXPLAINED that a gardener brought the angry critter into the museum, stating he found it on a hotel lawn. He issued a warning about the reptile's fast-snapping jaws and darted out the door.

Now Smith is eagerly awaiting the arrival of the alligator's owners. He will be very happy indeed when he has the chance to say, "see you later, alligator."

Discussions To Continue On Friday

Congressional Leaders Disagree
On Ike's Warning

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israeli Cabinet failed to reach agreement tonight on President Eisenhower's call for unconditional withdrawal of Israeli forces from the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba.

As a result, informed sources said, the government has postponed a reply to Washington.

PREMIER DAVID Ben-Gurion conferred with his Cabinet in two long sessions during the day. But the secret meetings apparently failed to turn up a solution to the problem of whether to defy the United Nations and remain in the disputed areas, or to withdraw as demanded.

The informed sources said the Cabinet may meet again Friday to resume its talks. Meantime, Ben-Gurion was scheduled to address Parliament tonight to explain the situation as it has evolved thus far.

BEN-GURION, it has been reported, would announce the country's answer to Mr. Eisenhower in his address to Parliament. But the informed sources said the Cabinet failed to reach any decision.

The decision to delay an answer was taken by a small Cabinet majority, the sources added. Reaction to the President's talk in the United States Congress was watched with interest by Israeli observers.

SENATE DEMOCRATIC Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he regretted the administration view "that there is no choice but to bring pressure on one side in a two-sided dispute."

He said Israel should withdraw from Egypt as the President urged but the withdrawal should be accompanied "by adequate U. N. action that will not leave Israel defenseless."

Rep. John M. Vorys (R-Ohio), second ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee said, however, that he "thoroughly approved" Mr. Eisenhower's stand. He said all Americans should "stand behind" the President.

Dr. Grace Line To Be Speaker

Dr. Grace Soong Line of Palm Springs, who visited Korea last summer and conferred while there with President Rhee, will be the featured speaker at the Friday luncheon meeting of the Palm Desert Rotary Club at the Shadow Mountain Club at noon.

Her topic will be "Korea Today." All visiting Rotarians and their wives are invited to attend, according to L. C. Lewis chairman of the day.

Traviss Regains Consciousness

Partially conscious for the first time since he suffered severe head injuries in an auto crash last week, Imperial Valley Assistant District Attorney Frank Traviss was reported in "fair" condition at Desert Hospital today.

Traviss, 48, of El Centro, had been in a coma since last Wednesday night, when his sports car overturned on Highway 99, two miles east of Garnet.

House Group Slashes Interior Dept. Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee chopped $60.8 million today out of President Eisenhower's budget request for the Interior Department.

The 12 per cent cut, the second approved by the committee so far in Mr. Eisenhower's record $71.8 billion peacetime spending budget, would give the department and minor related agencies $454.4 million for the 12 months starting July 1.

The president asked for $515.2 million.

ECONOMY-MINDED committee members told the House that "substantial reduction" must be made all along the line to relieve the drain of federal expenditures on the taxpayers of the nation.

The House Wednesday approved the committee's first effort at budget cutting, passing a bill which cut $80.3 million, or 9 per cent, in the nearly $4 billion re-

Cathedral City Realty Board Plans Meeting

A special meeting to file application of charter for a Cathedral City Realty board, will be held at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 26 at the Cathedral City Library.

Ted Smith, regional vice president of the California Real Estate Board, will conduct the meeting and each charter member will be requested to pay his dues in full for the year so that they may be sent in with the application.

Western States Ad Men to Meet

Advertising men from seven western states will converge on Palm Springs from April 25 through 27 for the seventh annual conference of the Western States Advertising Agencies Association.

Theme of the conference, headquartered at the Oasis Hotel, is "The Advertising Business — In 1962." Jim Christopher, Association president, said today.

Nationally prominent advertising personalities will address delegates at the three-day conference. Douglas Anderson past association president is conference general chairman.

Late News Bulletins

JERUSALEM UP — Premier David Ben-Gurion tonight rejected any demand that Israel withdraw from the Gaza Strip or the Gulf of Aqaba without "assurances."

BULLETIN — Public Utilities Commission continued its telephone service hearing in Los Angeles today, with three witnesses appearing to complain of service in this area, and one witness appearing for the companies under attack. Edwin C. Turner, representing the Cathedral City Area Business Association, read a letter enumerating eight specific complaints against the California Water and Telephone Company. Examiner Manley Edwards said all complaints would be checked.

Jones Accuses Board Chairman Paul Anderson of Being Dictator

Supervisor William Jones accused Supervisor Paul Anderson of setting himself up as director at this week's session of the board when Anderson, together with Supervisor George Berkey and Supervisor Curtis Chamberlain voted against his motion to grant an application for a zoning variance to allow a cabinet shop in the Anza-La Sierra district.

There was no opposition to the variance, but the planning commission had denied the application and the denial was appealed with the resultant hearing before the supervisors. There were 15 signatures to a petition urging that the petition be granted. One woman in the audience said she had come to protest but was convinced that the variance should be granted and had changed her mind.

"IT IS IN MY district," said Jones. "The people have no objection to the location of the shop. To deny the variance will be to work a hardship in the applicant who is the owner of the property. But Mr. Anderson has to be a dictator."

"I wish I had that power," said Anderson.

"You've sure got a swollen head," Jones told Anderson. "I've never seen anyone with a bigger case of swell head as chairman of this board."

"I CAN'T VOTE to grant the variance," said Berkey, "but I'll vote to ask the planning commission to consider a zoning change."

"I have to vote against it because it is contrary to the planning commission's recommendation," said Chamberlain.

After the vote was taken and his vote lost, Supervisor Jones bitterly remarked, "Mr. Anderson will now make a personal inspection of the area and render a decision."

"I'm glad you have so much confidence in me," retorted Anderson.

CHAMBERLAIN MADE a motion that the determination of the planning commission be sustained and that the commission be instructed to investigate rezoning of the area to light manufacturing.

"I'm in favor of the zoning if the people want it," said Jones "but see no need for it when there is no opposition to the variance and the man's neighbors are for it. When you start kicking these things back and forth you work a hardship on the individual whose money is invested. It is a stalling action."

The vote on Chamberlain's motion carried over the opposition of Jones and Supervisor Fred McCall.

THE END MAY BE IN SIGHT for groups like the Brownies, unless Villagers dig deep to swell the sadly depleted coffers of the Palm Springs Community Chest, which supports the Brownies, Boy and Girl Scouts, and various local organizations and welfare agencies. Under the guidance of leaders such as Mrs. Carmelita Smith, Brownies get a first-hand lesson on the art of cooking. Junior cooks are, left to right, Johnna Kelling, Monique Schmidt, Candice Coonan, Christy Eicher, pouring the milk; Robin Russell, Audrey Smith, Ann Jones, Patty Pagan and Tamara Tippit. How to build a fire is an important part of Brownie life too, and it's a serious project for, left to right, Ann, Patty, Candy, Johnna, Christy, Audrey, Monique, Tamara (who isn't taking any chances) and Robin.

Palm Springs Club Marks Rotary's 52nd Anniversary

Palm Springs, like 9,200 other cities and towns around the world, is observing this week the 52nd anniversary of the founding of Rotary International.

Commenting on the birthday of this world-wide organization of business and professional men, Jim Covett, president of the local club said:

"ROTARY ACTIVITIES throughout the free world are based on the same general objectives as those of our own Club — the development of fellowship among business and professional men, the betterment of communities, leading boys and girls into good citizenship, the promotion of high standards in businesses and professions, and the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace."

"The one basic objective of Rotary," he continued, "is its 'Ideal of Service' which is to be thoughtful and of help to others. To attain this objective, Rotary seeks all that which brings people together and avoids all which separates them. This is the reason why Rotary has become a world-wide institution whose ideals have been accepted by men differing widely in language, customs, and historical backgrounds."

"FOR MORE THAN half a century," Cavett continued, "Rotary has grown in numbers and strength. In the last 12 months, for example more than 400 new Rotary Clubs have been organized in 50 countries, and six new countries have been added to Rotary's membership roster — Iran, Iraq, Jordan, Netherlands New Guinea, and Ruanda - Urundi and Swaziland in Africa.

"Today, Rotary is a world-wide organization of more than 439,000 business and professional men who are members of 9,286 Rotary Clubs on the six continents."

Youth of Community, Nation Are Leaders Among Museum Visitors

If the Desert Museum did nothing else but provide thousands of boys and girls with wholesome information on the life and geology of the desert, it would more than justify its existence and be entitled to support in its present building fund drive, Co-Chairman Ernest Alschuler said yesterday.

"It has been a great source of pride to me as a member of the Museum's board of trustees to see the fascinated interest of the throngs of children to visit the Museum weekly," Alschuler said.

"SO INTERESTED are they, that parents, Scoutmasters or teachers who accompany them have great difficulty in getting them to leave. In these days when we are all so deeply concerned about juvenile delinquency, this is a most refreshing and promising situation. If children are that interested in nature study, what better contribution could we make toward their future than to enlarge and improve the Museum so that our services to the youth of not only our own community but all of Southern California can be broadened?" he asked.

The 10,000 boys and girls who visit the Museum annually — the total may exceed that point for the present season which is showing a remarkable increase — number three times the school population of the Palm Springs area, giving a reliable indication of how many come from other parts of the country.

"SOMEONE HAS SAID 'the children drag their parents into the Museum, and the parents must drag the children out.' Anyone who wishes to confirm this fact should station himself in the Museum and be thrilled by the intense interest of the youngsters. They like everything in the Museum, but they are particularly enthralled by the bird display, the minerals and the stuffed mammals and fowl representing the desert wild life," the campaign co-chairman said.

Almost every field trip sponsored by the Museum — there is one each Saturday during the winter months — has a Scout group making a merit badge foray into the desert. Recently Director Smith felt a particular sympathy for a Scout troop on a particularly difficult hike in the mud hills near Mecca.

"UNDER FULL PACK the Scouts were making their required five-mile hike for a merit badge were making their required five-mile hike for a merit badge. Imagine their surprise when our field trip lasted nine miles! But they were game and came in on the home stretch as fresh, I fear, as the leader of the trip," he confided.

Exhibits that delight the youngsters as well as the other 40,000 persons who enjoy the Museum annually are sharply limited by the cramped space within the small war surplus barracks which the Museum occupies

Library Notes for Young Readers and Their Parents

By GERRY VANEK

REQUEST OF WINGS (A Family's Pleasure With Books), by Annis Duff, is a true story about Mother, Father, Stephen and Deirdre, who make books a very important part of their lives. If the members of your family enjoy reading aloud to each other, and sharing the joys to be found between the covers of books, you'll feel right at home with the Duffs. If yours is not this type of family, perhaps reading this book will make you want to join the ranks of these happy people.

Parents will be especially fond of this true story because, in addition to its being a delight to read, it is also a wonderful guide to future reading experiences. In the appendix can be found a list of books devoted to such subjects as music and its appreciation (plus a valuable list of records that "go" with books) . . . art masterpieces and the stories behind them . . . the nature study . . . humor . . . tales tailored for the nursery . . . poetry for growing-up ages, and fairy tales and legends.

ALSO INCLUDED are literary classics covering a wide range of interests and a chapter on "Fun With Words," which places special emphasis on the fine reference works designed to increase and enrich one's command of the language.

I'm giving you fair warning that more than just your literary "appetite" will be whetted when you read the section called "These Thy Mercies." It contained appetizing quotations about such literary delicacies as BLACK SAMBO'S buttery pancakes, PETER RABBIT'S McGregor-type vegetables, and the hearty pioneer fare (roast rabbit, baked beans, hot corn bread, and cucumber pickles) found ON THE BANKS OF PLUM CREEK, by Laura Wilder.

FOREIGN TIDBITS get their share of attention, too; you'll find yourself wanting to nibble on some Czechoslovakian POPPY SEED CAKES, some dainties from MARY POPPINS' British tea table, and the pungent cheese made by the grandfather of KOBI, BOY OF SWITZERLAND. Exotic Oriental dishes and African oddities are mentioned, too.

Even the barest necessities take on an epicurean flare in Malot's

French story about NOBODY'S GIRL; the circumstances under which Perrine prepares her little repasts add a piquancy of flavor that even a famous French chef would find hard to duplicate.

IF THIS MANY faceted inter-relationship between books and other phases of living seems rather overpowering at first, just give it a try! Far from being dull, a loving dependence upon books truly adds a great deal of joy and excitement to living and learning. It's like the difference between seeing a movie in black and white on a small, flat screen—and then seeing the same movie in CinemaScope, Cinerama, Vistavision, Stereophonic sound, Tpd-A-O, and glorious Technicolor all rolled into one!

Now a combination like that is a physical impossibility in the movies (fabulous though they might be!), but absolutely nothing is impossible, or inaccessible, in the world of books! Your imagination is your only limitation and, after you have read enough books, your imagination should know no bounds!

THE AUTHOR HERSELF sets the theme of her book at the very beginning when she quotes the following poem by Emily Dickinson:

He ate and drank the precious words,
His spirit grew robust,
He knew no more that he was poor,
Or that his fame was dust.

About 305 South Dakota schools are participating in the milk program sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The children are expected to consume some six million half-pints of surplus milk.

RIDDLE:

What can you buy for only $1.50 that will pay ten of your bills?

SOLUTION: A Bank of America Tenplan checking account! With this special checking account, you can buy a book of ten checks for $1.50—and you don't have to keep your balance above any set minimum amount. It's ideal for you if you write only a few checks each month. Of course, a regular checking account is more practical if you write many checks. But no matter which type Bank of America checking account you have—Tenplan or regular—you'll find it saves you time, saves you money and helps you manage your financial affairs more easily and efficiently. How about opening one soon?

BANK OF AMERICA

Salutes the City of Palm Springs, Riverside County Association of Chambers of Commerce, and Agua Caliente Tribal Council, together with other interested civic groups, for their current campaign to rid desert highways of litter.

He danced along the dingy ways,
And this bequest of wings
Was but a book. What liberty
A loosened spirit brings.

THIS SAME MOOD is very evident in LONGER FLIGHT (A Family Grows Up With Books), also by Annis Duff. It describes the continuation of this happy companionship between reading and derivative pleasures such as the theater, museums, and an increased knowledge of human nature in general. Extensive booklists again lead the way to literary discoveries and exploration for you and your family.

And remember, the only admission required at the branch library story hours is "Imagination Unlimited." So don't forget to bring yours when you come next Wednesday!

Community Church Auxiliary Holds Interesting Meeting, Hears Reports

"Love" was the theme of the Valentine Day meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Community Church.

Mrs. Bernice Pyle, Bible student and teacher from the San Gabriel Union Church, spoke of "God's Love and Ours," and Dr. Grace Line's subject was "Love of Freedom."

A generous response is anticipated to Dr. Line's plea of help for the unfortunate and needy peoples of Korea. Those wishing to do so may send contributions through the Auxiliary.

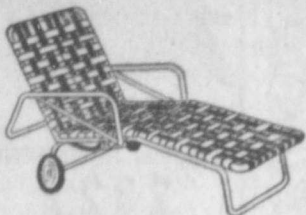

Mrs. Emma Shumaker spoke on the Philippines, lending an informative background to the report given by Mrs. Grace Hosler regarding the work of her brother-in-law, Dr. Frank C. Taubach and his method of teaching literacy, which has spread from among a few tribesmen to more than fifty million readers.

Mrs. Ruth Childs demonstrated a simple way to make rag rugs, and Doris Sprague displayed samples of her interesting hobbies, basketry and shell jewelry.

YARMOUTH, Me. 67.—A West-brook man went to the hospital and his car to the wrecker because a pet dog liked the wind in his face. Edward Cabral, 38, lost control of his car when the boxer dog suddenly leaped on to the front seat as Cabral rolled down a window. The automobile swerved off a highway here and overturned twice.

Mrs. Anna Mohr of Los Angeles spent last week at the Palm Springs home of her son, Harry Mohr and his wife, Edie, the "shady lady" of Mohr Shade.

Mrs. June Rotella of Berkeley is spending a few weeks at her home on Vista Drive, and visiting with her sister, Mrs. Betty McManis, and her family. Mrs. Rotella's daughter, Joy, remained in the northern city where she is attending high school.

Due to a broken knee cap as the result of a fall last Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ed. Donahue, Mrs. Anna L. Sherry, who had planned to stay only a week, will be unable to leave until the cast from her ankle to her hip is removed.

Over the weekend, Ed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. "Bill" Donahue of Sun Valley, Calif., were guests of the Donahues.

Mrs. Mary Flam is here from her home in Fingal, N. D. for an extended visit at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen McNeil.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Hagen are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Hagen, Sr., of Hollywood.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. John Palmer and their children, Vicki and Jeff, accompanied by Mrs. Palmer's sister, Hilda Maher, drove their mother, Mrs. Hattie Niehoff, to San Diego where they visited with another sister, Mrs. Bob Henry, before Mrs. Niehoff boarded a plane for her home in Seattle, Wash. She had spent the past two months with the Palmers at their home on "E" Street.

Birthdays held the spotlight around the Farmhouse this month. After celebrating the first anniversary of their popular restaurant, Bill and Kay Cuney went into Los Angeles to celebrate the birthdays of their son-in-law, Bob Gobel and two-year-old grandson, Michael, on Feb. 13 and 14. A joint birthday dinner was enjoyed at Don The Beachcomber in Hollywood where Bob Gobel is in charge of the warehouse.

Among recent diners at the Farmhouse were Gordon McCrae and family.

Anti-Red Leader In Syria Killed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The assassination in Beirut of Maj. Ghassan Jaidi, one of Syria's top anti-Communist leaders, may blow the lid off the explosive Syrian political situation, diplomats said here today.

The shooting also was certain to add new tension to the relations between Syria and the Lebanon, already cool because Lebanon has refused to return Syrian political refugees to the left wing Syrian government.

Jaidi was machine-gunned Tuesday in a Beirut street by Iz-zet Shaat, a hired assassin who was reported to have been trailing the Syrian political refugee for weeks.

The assassin was killed in a rooftop gun battle.

Rabbit Ear Mountain, in northeastern New Mexico, was named after Cheyenne Indian chief, called Rabbit Ears because his ears had been frozen during a particularly severe winter in the 19th Century. The chief was killed in battle, and is buried on the mountain.

Record Crowd Attends Lions Club Meeting

A record crowd in attendance at the Lions Club meeting enjoyed an interesting film of the Fairbanks area of Alaska, shown and narrated by bush pilot Robert Perry.

Plans were made for a play to be presented March 29 and 30. The all star cast featuring Lions Club members will be announced later.

Doeskin gloves are named for the female deer because centuries ago the softest gloves were made in France from the skin of that animal. Today the skins are provided by baby lambs raised on French hillside expressly for glove-making.

Party Celebrates First Anniversary

A recent party celebrated the first anniversary of the Farmhouse Restaurant. While the popular piano stylist, Jack Allen played happy birthday, Chef Young brought in a beautifully decorated cake inscribed with "1st Anniversary Bill and Kay."

Since the Farmhouse received its liquor license it has been redecorated, the popular Rooster Room has been added featuring Jack Allen at the piano, and a dance floor has also been added.

'Fishy' Story

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—If F. L. Sanders thought there was something "fishy" he was 100 per cent correct. Mrs. Sanders searched all over the house for a missing goldfish, found it in Sanders' pocket when he came home from work. The goldfish apparently jumped out of its bowl into the pants while they were hanging over a chair near the bowl.

Gaeties Workers Honored

Palm Springs Business Women's Club honored those who helped make 1957 Gaeties such an outstanding success, when it held its monthly dinner meeting Monday evening at Laurye's Steak Ranch. Approximately 35 members and their guests enjoyed a steak dinner.

After dinner, President Tess Potter asked Helen Morris to introduce the new members attending, and to present each of them with a desert floral corsage.

On behalf of the club, Mildred Veano and Louise Purnel presented each of the girls, who participated in the east of the Gaslight Gaeties, with a gold disc inscribed, "Gaslight Gaeties, 1957." At the same time, Estelle Schiller presented both Mildred and Louise with a gift, on behalf of the organization, in order to show appreciation of their hard work as co-chairmen of the Gaslight Gaeties.

Thanks was also given to the husbands of members who so ably served as waiters; to Art Langstrom and Sam Goldberg for assembling and painting the sets; and to the many others who helped make the show such a success.

President Tess Potter then announced that all members are urged to attend church, as a group, on Sunday, March 10, at the Palm Desert Community Church, with a brunch being served after the services at the Shadow Mountain Club. All of those wishing to attend, please contact Edna Broitt at 4406 in order to establish a reservation and transportation.

Some Peanuts Non-Fattening

Specialists at Iowa State College said deoiled peanuts soon will answer the problem of peanut-loving calorie-counters.

An ordinary handful of 15 to 17 peanuts has 84 calories, but without oil the same size handful has only 17 calories—good news for waistline watchers.

The deoiled nuts are milder and sweeter than ordinary peanuts the specialists said, and slightly lighter in color.

6 Salad Cups

Sports Car Club Is Planning a Scavenger Hunt

Palm Springs Sports Car Club will hold a Scavenger Hunt on Monday evening, February 25, at 7:30. Starting point will be Howard Manor, and finish line will be at the Rossmore Hotel two hours later.

Anyone interested is invited to attend, and for this rally it is not compulsory to be driving a sports car. Entry fee is 1.50 per car. Rallymaster will be Anne Wallace, assisted by Lee and Betty Muhleck.

Club Plans Rummage Sale

Soroptimist International has chosen February 23 as the day for their Rummage Sale. This will be held at the former location of Neel's Nursery, 343 North Indian Avenue. President Mabel Russell has asked that if anyone has any rummage to donate, if they will notify any of the Soroptimist members, they will be happy to pick it up. The money raised from this sale is used for the club's educational fund.

Rabbi Rosenberg was the speaker at Tuesday's meeting at the Biltmore. His subject was "Brotherhood." He said that the purpose of Brotherhood is not to make us alike, but to make us like each other. Brotherhood begins with the ability to live.

Polly Isenagie presided in the absence of the president, Mabel Russell.

Georgia Corporan of the Whit-ter Club, was a guest.

'Chalk Garden' Is Dramatic Vehicle for Playhouse Cast

Under the skilled direction of Michael Ferrall, "The Chalk Garden," which opened Tuesday night at the Playhouse, is a play that stars the play itself. It is not presented as a vehicle for one actor, but as a subtle blend of the talents of each player who seems particularly attuned to the nuances of characterization. All contribute to a well-knit, tense, and literate drama, with mood sustained throughout. The play, written by Euid Bagnold, had a long and very successful run in New York, and judged by first night audience reaction, it will attract many who enjoy the stimulation of serious drama and good theater. It is not a heavy play, but neither is it lightweight.

It has humor, warmth, and at times, an almost mystic quality, as various members of the English manor household find and free themselves from their own particular and unproductive chalk gardens of circumstance. It ends on a high and satisfying note, that the garden will be nurtured to full, rich bloom and those who are left to tend it will have a more fertile soil in which to cultivate their lives.

Jesse Glendinning, well known in theater history, was warmly welcomed to her fourth Playhouse season. In her role as the slightly pixilated grandmother, and mistress of the word menage, she is completely in character, drawing many laughs, and also arousing twinges of pity. She is as in-cept in her attempts to grow flowers as she is to understand people. For many years she has allowed herself and her household to be dominated by "Mr. Pink Bell," the old family butler who lies ill up-

Tournament Is Social Highlight

Second annual Shadow Mountain Club Women's Golf Invitational Tournament was the social highlight of the past week at Shadow Mountain Club.

Mrs. E. Page Hubble won top honors with her low gross score. First and second net prizes for visitors went to Mrs. Andrew Eads of Olympia, Washington, and Mrs. Ralph Pawley of Indio. Mrs. William W. Kelley and Mrs. Ben W. Vallat won first and second low net for members.

Mrs. Edward Ruge, chairman, presided over the beautifully appointed luncheon, which was enjoyed by both visitors and members, in the Shadow Mountain Club dining room.

Fun and good fellowship was the keynote at the punchbowl luncheon which was served in the "Tee" house at the climax of the Tournament on Tuesday.

Mrs. Duncan Crux, vice president of the Shadow Mountain Ladies' Golf Club, was in charge of tournament arrangements.

Champagne Party Fetes Birthday

Seventy-five years of wonderful living was celebrated by Alexander Clitstone at a champagne birthday party given by Mrs. Clitstone at the Blue Skies Trailer Park Wednesday evening. The Clitstones live in San Diego and he is an early day stagecoach driver from Idaho, prospector, hotel owner and has had numerous other occupations which took him all over the United States and Canada.

More than 90 people, including the residents of the trailer park, and the Clitstones' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Clitstone, and two children Donna and Teri, who drove down from La Mesa for the happy occasion, joined in wishing "Happy, Happy Birthday" to Clitstone.

Along with champagne hor d'oeuvres and birthday cake were served and Harold Tonne played several numbers on his accordion.

stairs. Her sense of timing for the full measure of comedy is a delight to watch.

The granddaughter, Laurel, is played beautifully by a charming young actress, Gloria Church. She imparts all the freshness and intensity of youth to this girl who almost traps herself in her own vivid imaginings, but also reveals the candor that is often astonishingly astute.

When Marrian Walters is first seen as the tight-lipped, plain, and colorless woman who has come as the first applicant for the position of companion to the young Laurel, she is hardly recognizable. Tight drawn dark hair, a set look, flat shoes, and an almost dowdy suit make her "Miss Madrigal." Miss Walters comes to full stature as an actress as she portrays this person who has locked her painful past behind a forbidding demeanor and clipped speech. Her voice carries both her resignation to her fate and the intensity of her inner conflict. She has many lines of both beauty and wisdom. One in the last act, "I shall continue to explore the astonishment of living," serves to remind her many fans that they are continuing to explore the astonishment of her very great artistry.

Tim O'Connor is excellent as Maitland the butler, who often forgets to act like a proper English butler, but is ever the eager participant in all that occurs in the manor house. He gives a real warmth of his role and to those to whom he is loyal.

Phyllis Flax brings great sensitivity to the part of Olivia, who has found happiness outside the manor, but not without bitterness and frustration having been created during her early years.

Joan Overholt displays appropriate crispness as the nurse, and Ann Wakefield and Beth Williams bring life to the first and second applicants for the few moments that they are on stage. Sidney Breese is outstanding as the judge who finds growing old not too disturbing, but discovers that he can become most uncomfortable over decisions that he has made from the bench.

Garden Club Hears Talk By Planner

Members of the Palm Springs Garden Club gathered on Saturday at the Merito Place home of Mrs. Merwyn Frank for dessert and the February meeting. Co-hosting with Mrs. Frank were Mrs. Hilton McCabe and Mrs. Frank Camp. Mrs. Frank Cutler of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Alschuler of the Chicago area, all former residents of the Village and former active members of the club, were among the guests. Mrs. Cutler was one of the founder members.

Members, according to custom, wore flowers grown in their own gardens, and answered roll call by giving the name of the flower worn. A wide variety of dozens of flowers was represented.

Mrs. Hilton McCabe reported that the sales of the Garden Books, recently published by the club, with very complete data for the gardener in the Desert Area, had gone over the 500 mark; and that many additional shops had volunteered to handle the book, on a non-profit basis, realizing the value of this civic project.

Lloyd Loveland, planning commissioner in the Coachella Valley, gave a very interesting and worthwhile talk about the plans and work of the commission, urging everyone to take more interest, and to keep informed, and to support the planning work.

Plans are under way, in the Garden Club, for the annual Gardens Tour in March, and Flower Show in April, both of which are open to the public, and have become popular events with residents and visitors to the Village.

First Nighter Crowd Dines At World Famous Club

The gay and exclusive Racquet Club opened its doors to 170 First Nighters, preceding the opening of the Broadway hit, "The Chalk Garden." The hostess committee, headed by Mrs. Harold E. Murphy, seemed to be everywhere at once making arriving guests feel welcome. Mmes. Charles Harris, Grace Pope, Earl Henderson, and Bernard Bollman were her charming and able assistants. Many arrived early for cocktails, while others found seats at small tables in the unique circular dining room, or stepped up to join friends at long tables in the Mural Room.

Mrs. John F. Luccareni, Playhouse Guild president, presided at the head table, from where she greeted the assemblage and made the announcement that within the next three weeks the Playhouse would produce a play especially for children, "The Wizard of Oz." This news was received with warm response, as the Guild has long wanted to bring such a theatrical to local youngsters.

Real southern fried chicken, flanked by fritters and cream gravy, was a dining delight. From fruit cup to the nut encrusted ice cream roll, the dinner was delicious, and diners seemed reluctant to leave the pleasant and congenial atmosphere of the world famous club.

A large party had been arranged by Mrs. W. F. Schlothman. Joining her for the festive evening were Messrs. and Mmes. A. B. McEachern, George Joyce, Ennis St. Cyr, James Stone, and Collis Steere, also Robert Blanks and Mmes. J. McEachern, John Hamrick, Oth Herman, Elizabeth Summerbell, Jessie Hill, and Gladys Miller.

Mrs. Gustave A. Berg, with her escort, Robert Dietrich, was hostess to new residents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Westberg from Bel Air, and the Walter Warrens from Milwaukee.

From Palm Desert came a no host table arranged by Mrs. Ann Carpenter, of Mrs. S. D. Barry and her daughter, Mrs. June Alley. Mrs. Fred Loflan, and Mrs. Ewald Lohe from Santa Monica.

Major and Mrs. Reuben Fleet brought visitors from Aberdeen, Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wuest and Mr. and Mrs. Warner Rupp, along with Mrs. Phyllis Flee Nelson and the E. K. Bishops. Mrs. Harry Joe Brown brought a party of six, as did Miss Bess Bender, including Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rappaport from New York City. At another table for six were Mrs. Henry Passow with the William Sheppards from Oregon, and Mrs. Hilda Rogers from North Wales.

Mrs. Francis J. Pruitt was entertaining her houseguest from Westwood, Miss Dortha Lane, and Mrs. Cal Brown and Mrs. Nora Lockwood. Mrs. Frank Russell Payne was hostess for Dr. and Mrs. Charles McNitt and Mrs. Frances Mack. Mrs. Don Bleitz came with Mrs. Annette Tutill of Beverly Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Jeffery revealed that they had come on a visit from Mt. Shasta, California, but were now looking for a home, as Mr. Jeffery had become manager of the Plaza Investment Corporation. Enjoying a desert winter are the Norman Jeffers from Vancouver. Many others from out of town were delighted to be a part of this gay dinner party of theater-goers.

A full house admired the most attractive setting and applauded the effective lighting that marked the opening scene of the play. The high spirits of the First Nighters dropped away as the audience fell to hushed attention.

The next curtain raising dinner will be held at the Chi Chi on February 26, when Marrian Walters will star in the role that Gertrude Lawrence made famous on Broadway in the comedy, "Sky-lark." Visitors and local residents who wish to attend the First Nighter should make reservations by calling the Guild office, 6478.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marston of Eugene, Oregon, have taken a house at 71-346 San Geronimo Road, Rancho Mirage until the first of April.

Wildflowers Expected To Transform Desert in March

A rare experience is promised Palm Springs visitors this spring when wildflowers transform the desert landscape into a carpet of brilliant color. A combination of certain elements is necessary to produce this phenomenon such as rainfall at exactly the proper times, followed by warm, sunny weather to stimulate germination of the seed.

During the past month there has been sufficient rainfall to predict a wildflower display in this popular desert vacationland, located 100 miles east of Metropolitan Los Angeles via fine freeways, unrivaled anywhere in the country. As a rule the blooming period starts around the middle of March, continuing into May.

Always a study in contrast, the desert promises no disappointment when wildflower season begins. Her lavishness is breathtaking, her choice of colors a revelation and the formation of her flowers and plants, some so tiny that a magnifying glass is needed, almost awesome. The minute plantlets will cover the desert floor so close it is impossible to take a step without walking on them.

At least 40 different varieties are to be found in the Palm Springs area in good flower years, with many additional varieties in foothills and more distant sections of the desert.

The most luxuriant and colorful is the sand verbena, a creeping plant that blooms into a mass of lavender-pink pompoms. Another variety with prodigious blooming habits is the evening primrose with its wine-scented, tissue petaled white blooms centered with yellow.

Such plants as the desert gold with its rich odored gold flowers on two-foot tall stalks, the encelia whose yellow blooms veil dusty gray foliage, the dull red chuparrosa, whose sweet nectar draws myriads of humming birds, the desert lavender with its faint Old English fragrance, the five-petaled poppylike apricot mallow, the desert dandelion's sun-light-yellow blossoms closely resembling its relatives native to areas of greater rainfall, and the desert forget-me-not whose minute snow-white flowers are arranged on a hairy stem that curls like a fiddle neck, are only a few of the varieties, each individually unique. As nature's protection, tiny stiff hairs protect the majority of the plants from the foraging of animals and insects.

Special wildflower tours are to be scheduled by the Palm Springs Desert Museum for vacationer and visitor.

CALIFORNIANS PAYING $7 BILLION FEDERAL TAXES

It will help some people to realize how much the operation of our Federal Government is costing these days to know that it runs about $2,000 a year for the average California family of four. This is based on the proposed 1958 budget of $71,900,000,000. On top of this, of course, residents of this state are paying another $1.9 billion to keep the State Government going—plus their county and city taxes.

The Federal Government is spending—and therefore collecting—more than necessary. Uncle Sam has become fat on the rich income tax diet of the past fourteen years. There's so much money coming that the professional "spenders" have to think up new ways of handling our millions and millions.

To get some idea of the magnitude of this spending program read the article "How NOT to Handle Foreign Aid" by Bernard S. Van Rensselaer in the February Readers Digest. It will be almost hard to believe—particularly the passing out of 300 million dollars in economic aid to Iran.

We hear warnings from many sources—but there seems to be no stopping of this spending program by Congress. President Eisenhower and many Senators have expressed themselves in favor of greater economy in the Federal Government—but that's as far as it seems to get. Congress is slow to adopt recommendations of the Hoover Commission that would save countless millions. The President says that it will continue to cost dearly for all the services the people demand (and deserve) from their government. Hoover says there's too much pressure by lobbies on Congress for unnecessary appropriations.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

The Feature Event

WASHINGTON, D. C. — You think you've seen some good fights this year in the Eisenhower Arena? Well, don't go away. You haven't seen anything yet. Those bouts of Ike vs. Secretary Humphrey on the budget, of Ike vs. Secretary Wilson on the National Guard, or Ike vs. Mrs. Wilson on family loyalty — these were nothing but preliminaries. The main bout and feature event is still to come. It is Old Soldier vs. Old Man Inflation.

Surprisingly little has been written about this upcoming battle. Yet it's been discussed within the White House staff and has been guardedly mentioned to individual newsmen. It comes down to this: Mr. Eisenhower grew up in a large family where money had to be stretched to cover the necessities of life.

FROM THE DAY of his graduation from West Point, Class of 1915, the President assumed that he would some day retire on a fixed income from his army pay and some small insurance investments within modest means. The purchasing power of the dollar is something of which he's been conscious for 40 years.

This is one subject on which the President has not needed and not tolerated much instruction from his economic advisers. He knows that a dollar invested as recently as 1949, when Mr. Truman commenced his full term, now buys only 83 cents worth of commodities, according to Labor Department statistics.

FOR A DEMOCRATIC government to permit this to happen to people is, in the President's private opinion, according to White House testimony, "stealing" and "immoral." The President is bound and determined that no considerable inflation will occur in his Administration. During the first term, it didn't. During the second term, the experts are beginning to say that it might.

Here, essentially, is where the Old Soldier differs from his businessmen-ministers about economic controls. Secretaries Humphrey, Wilson and Weeks would oppose wage-price-rent controls under anything less than a war or national calamity. But the subject of controls was on the tip of the President's tongue at a recent press conference. The reason seems to be that the subject was in the forefront of his mind.

Every indication is that he would not wait for calamity. In the choice of evils between economic controls and creeping inflation of considerable injury to small savings and fixed incomes, the President would choose controls.

NOR IS THIS A mere academic observation of the President's state of mind. One major American industry — petroleum — is already under double investigation relating to the price of its chief commodity — fuel oil. The Senate joint subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly is looking for a conspiracy in restraint of trade.

The Senate committee on interstate and foreign commerce will soon begin hearings not just in Washington, but regionally, beginning in New England. This probe will cover not only automobiles and house-heating fuel, but ship fuel which leads directly into the world price of oil.

A staff member of this committee tells me that from oil, the probe will extend into the many petroleum products and derivatives, and into the prices of goods used to produce, refine and deliver petroleum.

IN BRIEF, WHAT'S building up in Congress is a mammoth price probe that begins with oil and ends who-knows-where. The Justice Department already stands poised to open anti-trust suits against the petroleum industry. If the result of all this is to lay facts before the President showing a rising pattern of prices, his indignation will not be easily contained.

It doesn't make sense that, with all its income, the Federal government cannot reduce more rapidly its $270,600,000,000 debt—on which interest charges alone take up 10 percent of the huge Federal budget.

Creeping Taxation Cancer

If only a small part of the waste were eliminated, it would be easy to reduce the unfair Federal income tax set-up. Palm Springs resident, Reuben H. Fleet, recently wrote a letter to the Ways and Means Committee, pointing out the unfairness and unsoundness of the 91 percent top bracket. Fleet writes in part:

"Mr. Humphrey says the Treasury is now collecting less than $300,000,000 annually from individuals paying more than 50 percent personal income tax! A mere pittance as the price of driving our country into socialism!

"Now that World War II is over and we're well armed, shouldn't we correct this situation? Make the rules and the rates fair? Give investors a run for their money? Why should brainy legislators like you collaborate with socialists? Punitive tax rules and rates are steadily, inexorably driving us into socialism! Government bonds at a discount—money scarce—interest rates rising!

"Change our rules and rates and stop shackling the will to venture in this, still capitalistic, country. People might work for 50 percent and give the other 50 percent to the government. It would preserve our capitalistic system, limit income taxation Constitutionally to 50 percent—inoperative automatically upon declaration of war by Congress or armed attack on our country."

Copies of Fleet's letter were sent to the President, California's senators and other top officials. Letters like this will help. It is quite apparent that the people will have to rise up and demand reforms in the Federal Government's tax-and-spend programs.

After you have read that Readers Digest article mentioned above, you'll probably be in a good mood to write a letter yourself.

There is another direction which the petroleum probe could take. Of the major commodity-supplying industries in the United States, only two today are free from direct Government control. One industry is dairy products; the other is oil production. If you haven't already, perhaps you should notice that the heavy artillery of the Social-Democrat press and party is laying a barrage upon the petroleum business.

YOU CAN READ in the newspapers that "oil money" was behind our Suez policy; that "oil interests" dictated the Eisenhower Doctrine. You can hear from such Senators as Langer, Morse, and O'Mahoney that there is one kind of price-fixing worse than Government controls and that is price-fixing by corporate "monopolies." A propaganda barrage of this sort is never without meaning. There is now building up among Social-Democrats a determined effort to bring oil production under the Federal Power Commission or some other appropriate agency, either already in existence or created for the occasion.

PERSONS WHO ARE for such regulation, as well as those who are, like myself, dead against it, have a feeling that the oil industry stands where the railroads, the utilities, the banks and the rest of the controlled businesses once stood — that is, on the ragged edge of regulation.

The President's fight against inflation is to be the main bout of his career. It may be the one on which his historical stature is judged. He began the fight by warning business and Labor, by hinting at economic controls, by permitting his Attorney General to scan the horizon for antitrust suits. Before he's finished, he may be asking Congress for stand-by controls or vetoing a Congressional action for increased Federal regulation. Whatever happens, it should be quite a fight.

How Do You Keep From Stepping on Somebody's Toes?

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

This week I must be kind to all, And turn the other cheek. No umbrage take at anything For it is Brotherhood Week.

Starting last Sunday and ending next Saturday, the seven days in between are devoted to ever-loving consideration for one and all.

I'll tell Bill Rashall that he writes a nice column—if he'll reciprocate. But don't ask me tomorrow. You know what day that is and what I can't tell any of.

Why, I even like those blind camera men at Santa Anita who always get the wrong photo.

THAT REMINDS ME. That is, Santa Anita does. Recently as a prize for deciphering a phonetic poem submitted to me and reproduced here, I offered some used, or rather, unusable, pasteboards purchased on horses which decided not to gallop.

Yesterday I received a big, fat envelope. In it was a note and a stack of tickets on horses. All were dated February 16.

I will not name my correspondent. For it might embarrass her. For there were two or three tickets on every race in that envelope. All unredeemable. (I carefully checked. You can't tell where you might find a fast buck these days.)

Every race but the first. There are two conclusions to be drawn. (a) She won in the first race. (b) She didn't get there in time to visit the windows.

AT ANY RATE, her note was to the effect that, although she merited a prize for her quick translation of that poem, she did not want or need any worthless pasteboards from Santa Anita.

Well, Lady, I am glad to say that I have very few of my own. That is not due to any special acumen on my part. Just that, having retired, I do not have time to go to the races.

DO YOU SAVE PENNIES? If so, you are one of those who are forcing the United States mint to work overtime. The government is planning to step up the output of pennies because of the great demand. They'll put out 1,093 billion this year.

It's because of piggy banks, odd prices for bargains, sales taxes and the habit people have of chucking their pennies into jars or vases when they get home at nights.

WAS INTERESTED in an item in the Southern Pacific Bulletin, the magazine put out by the FSP. The man who first put whistles on locomotives in the U.S. was George W. Whistler, father of John McNeill Whistler noted artist of Rocking Chair fame.

INEZ ROBB:

No Starch, Please

What follows is, in a way, the story of my life for the past 27 years. It is a real washboard weeper, a tale of heartbreaking struggle, hand-to-hand combat and constant defeat in my unceasing efforts to persuade, cajole, plead, threaten and bribe the countless laundries of New York City not to starch my husband's shirts.

I am encouraged to write this personal memoir today only because a crusading New York firm that specializes in gent's furnishings—Wallachs by name — has fearlessly brought to light this grave domestic issue in a series of advertisements in New York newspapers.

WALLACHS INNOCENTLY began its great crusade, which I confidently expect to spread with the speed of light to every section of the United States, in an ad that read:

"Why is it that laundries are so passionately addicted to starch? Why is it so hard to get back a shirt without at least a veneer of starch in the collars and cuffs. Is it true that laundries have one worker whose job it is to find and destroy all pinned-in notes that say, pleadingly, 'No starch, please?'"

WELL, SIR, ASIDE from the fact that the American Institute of Laundering and every individual laundry in the five New York boroughs have called in to Wallachs with passionate denials, the firm is doing just dandy because the customers are crying, "Bravo," "Hurrah," "You took the words out of my mouth!"

As for me, I am sobbing with gratitude to Wallachs for pin-pointing the only real problem, aside from the Dogers (which is only seasonal), that has clouded my married life. The head of Clan Robb hates starch in his collars as the devil hates holy water. Ordinarily the mildest of men with a divine disposition, he is turned into a snarling maniac depressive at the mere sight of a starched shirt.

AT SUCH TIMES he is prone to beat his breast, to the accompaniment of crackling starch, and cry aloud for justice. I hope Wallachs gets it for him; Heaven knows, I have been unable to.

For 27 years every weekly laundry list has started with the entreaty, "Please, please, do not—repeat do not—starch Mr. Robb's shirts," and has ended with the plea, "Please, no starch in shirts."

FIFTY PER CENT of the time, the shirts return with the look and feel of white-washed sheet steel. That is the cue for the rest of the household to hide out until the storm blows over. At such times, I wonder how many innocent wives have been beaten and children maimed by a pater familias gone berserk. The schools of hard knocks and hard collars go hand-in-hand.

Everyone knows the boiled shirt is kaput, save for weddings and wakes, except the laundry industry. It—the laundry biz—is living in a dream world of boiled shirts and matching customers that ended years and years ago.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that the only man I have seen in a hard collar by daylight in years is Dr. John Bodkin Adams, the English medico now under arrest for murder and suspected of having cremated rather than buried his mistakes, as is the American medical custom. I can think of no finer or more valuable doctoral thesis than one tracing the relationship between hard collars and crime.

Starch in shirts—and the solution does not lie in changing laundries (in that way lies madness)—is a domestic issue more grave than the farm problem, inflation and inadequate schools. More power to Wallachs for bringing the issue to light. It deserves full praise for having drawn to public attention the average American's life and hard times.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By LICHTY

"I not only oppose any increase in postage rates, gentlemen, but shall demand that a stamp be issued commemorating my courageous fight against it!"

EARL WILSON:

'Doesn't Have Her Claws Out'

NEW YORK — Tab Hunter was saying he liked French actress Etchika Chourou... "I hope Hollywood doesn't ruin her... she's not one of these career-minded women that's got her claws out."

"Do most of the Hollywood gals have their claws out?" I asked. "Hollywood goes for the sex pots and there are so many of a gasping type who keep saying they're dedicated but who do nothing about it but say they are." Tab looked very firm about it as he sat there at the table in Toots Shor's in his corduroy jacket and black sweater.

"THOSE GIRLS," he added solemnly, "have nothing in common with Etchika Chourou. I don't mean to sound snobbish, but why waste time going out with those girls who don't stimulate you?" Tab admitted that he thought Etchika would steal his next picture, "Lafayette Escadrille."

His sudden and unexpected success as a singer ("Young Love" is No. 1 nationally) has brought Tab back into the public eye.

"KIM STANLEY," he said, "is the finest young actress in America in my opinion. She just loves Monroe! Monroe was a laughing stock at first and now look at the respect she's got. And Jayne Mansfield! She knows what she has to offer. Jayne Mansfield!"

Tab smiled over that, then frowned as he told of his own hard struggle. "I made nine pictures, but in 1932 all I made was $500."

"I couldn't get a movie part for 13 months and I got a job pressing sheet metal. About that time my agent said to me, 'What are you unhappy about?' Susan Ball had her leg amputated today!"

"HE WAS RIGHT," I'm a product of publicity — a case of where publicity has exceeded the product. "But I don't think people realize I'm sincere and want to do something good. I'm sure there are people who say 'Tab Hunter' like they used to say 'Sonny Tufts'."

Tab's currently going around the country helping Warner's exploit "The Spirit of St. Louis" — a picture which he isn't in.

He also gets opportunity to plug his record. "What range is your voice?" I asked, proving I was very musical. Tab looked bewildered. "I don't have much of a range," he admitted. "A girl said my voice sounds like a girl might expect her boy friend to sing. I guess she meant pretty bad."

Village Cage Champs Lose In First Round

Boys' Club Downs Indio Legion in Overtime Periods

Laurye's Steak Ranch basketball team, winners of the title in the recent City Basketball League, ran into trouble in the first round of the Two-County basketball tournament which got under way Wednesday night here and at Indio. Laurye's went down to defeat before the Redlands All Stars, 48 to 50 and are out of championship competition.

ON THE OTHER SIDE of the picture, the Boys' Club, runners-up in the city league, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, won their game and are still in the running.

They defeated the Indio American Legion team 45 to 42 although it took them two overtime periods to do it.

In the local game, it was nip and tuck until the final seconds when Redlands dumped in two points to beat Laurye's.

Don Stone was high for the locals with 16 points.

OTHER FIRST ROUND games, played for tonight, will be played tomorrow night because high school teams are using their gymnasiums in County League play tonight.

The first annual Independent Basketball Tournament, involving 16 teams from Riverside and San Bernardino counties is jointly sponsored by the City Recreation Department, Howard Haddock superintendent, and the Coachella Valley Park and Recreation district.

Indian Tennis Team Loses To Riverside

The Palm Springs High Tennis defending county champions need a great deal of practice in order to duplicate their winning ways as in the two previous years. They were completely dominated by a slick Riverside Poly tennis squad except in two matches, Bill Beck and Richard Reakes won their singles.

Undoubtedly the biggest let-down came when Frank Ripley, first in Palm Springs and fourteen rank in Southern California, suffered a 6-2, 6-4 defeat. Others to be defeated were Denny Hammond, Dick McFarland, and in the doubles, Roger Williams and Gary Waters and second doubles, Dawson Hayward and Erick Williams. Both doubles matches went three sets.

Not only did the Indians lose their shirts, but they lost two of their players. Dawson Hayward and Gary Waters seemed to have wandered off and were last seen in Riverside.

Seamus Nunan expects a better showing for his netters from now on. Nunan is the new replacement for Alex Hammond, tennis coach for many years.

The verdict, threatening the career of the nationally-known fighter whose exploits earned him nearly $1 million and the nickname Golden Boy, came in the third day of jury deliberations.

Indians Close Season with Perris Tonight

Favor Braves To Close With .500 Average

By LINDSAY NEILSON

Coach Al Kazmier of the Palm Springs High School Indians will send his squads into their final showing of 1957 tonight at the Braves' gymnasium against Perris High.

Unless there is a startling upset, the Warriors will end the current varsity campaign on an even basis, seven won and seven lost. Perris high has failed to win a game this season and the local Varsity quintet will be heavy favorites.

THE PAPOOSE squad seems destined to remain in the basement of their division. Perris Bees have a fair record this year and are in third place with an 8-5 record while the Papoose team is last with a 2-11 mark.

In their first round meetings, Palm Springs Varsity won over Perris on the latter's floor, 83 to 51 while the Perris Bees edged the Papooses, 45 to 38.

WHILE THE INDIANS have lost one more than they have won going into tonight's game, they have outscored their opponents 667 to 630. The games they have won were by fair margins, those they have lost, by close scores. Two of the games went into overtime.

The championship of the 1957 race rests on three games tonight. If Banning overcomes Hemet they will be in without entanglements. But if they lose and San Jacinto and Elsinore both win, the league will be snarled with three teams tied for the top.

COMPILATION of scorers for the season to date shows John Warren, Palm Springs center, fourth in Riverside County League ratings with 183 points in 13 games for a 14.1 average. Sam Jones is the second-high Indian point-getter with 156 points in 13 games for 12.2 and Curt Roberts third with 132 points for a 10.2 average. Bob Jackson has 74 points in 11 games for 6.7.

Dick McFarland of the Papoose squad tops them in scoring up to tonight's game. He has accounted for 115 of 454 points his team has scored in league competition, holding a 8.8 average for the 13 games. The standing of the league's Bee division:

BASILIO IN SHAPE FOR TITLE BOUT—HE SAYS

CLEVELAND — Carmen Basilio, welterweight champion who defends his crown here tomorrow night against ex-champion Johnny Saxton, set at rest any doubts about his right hand.

"It feels fine and I'll be in there banging with it," he said as he completed his training for the battle.

He demonstrated what he meant by banging away at the 50-pound bag lustily for three rounds. He also did 10 rounds of vigorous shadow boxing, rope skipping and ending exercises on the rubbing table.

Basilio will go into the battle in Florida. The line on him was 12 to 5 this morning.

The champion bruised his right hand while training for this bout in Florida. The battle, originally slated for January 18, was reset for the Washington's birthday holiday as a result. In training yesterday Basilio wore sponges over the knuckles of both fists but "I always do that," he explained. Tomorrow night's meeting between Basilio and Saxton will be their third. Saxton went the first one on a questionable decision in Chicago.

Pastrono Looks For New Foes in Quest for Crown

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Willie Pastrono, fourth-ranked heavyweight contender, looked for higher rated foes to conquer in his quest for a title shot after disposing of Johnny Holman of Chicago by a unanimous decision last night in a 10-round televised battle.

It was the 21st victory without defeat for Pastrono who went into the fight a 17 to 5 favorite.

Outweighted 2014 to 187½, Pastrono forced the fighting through-out. Referee Dennis Leslie scored it 7-3 for Pastrono, Judge Tom Nuckles had it 6-3-1 and Judge Frank Decamilas, 7-2-1.

BIG SANTA ANITA 'CAP WIDE OPEN THIS YEAR

By ALEX KAHN

United Press Sports Writer
ARCADIA — The largest field since the 1947 running of the Santa Anita Handicap was in the making today for the 20th running of the $100,000 classic as the track took entries two days in advance of Saturday's race.

Owners and trainers, heartened by the lack of a horse that might dominate the race like a swaps or Bobby Brocato, trooped to the racing secretary's office to pay the $5000 entry fee. It costs another $1500 to start in the mile and a quarter race.

With advance guesses indicating a field of some 20 for the big handicap, the race was expected to gross an estimated $15,000 and the winner's share would be approximately $110,000, making it the richest renewal of the race since Azucar won the inaugural running in 1935 and collected $108,400.

Either Holandes II, the chocolate brown charger from Argentina, or the game and consistent Honeys Alibi was expected to be the favorite when posttime rolls around Saturday.

Market Basket won Wednesday's $22,950 Santa Susana Handicap for three-year-old fillies. The daughter of Radiotherapy rallied in the final strides to nip Royal Rasher by a nose. Tourbillante finished third.

Market Basket raced the seven furlongs in 1:37 2-5 and returned $9.40.

New County Air Pollution Committee Gets Legal Aid In Preparing Regulations, Rules for District Control

Dr. John Middleton, chairman of the newly formed Riverside County Air Pollution Advisory Committee, told the supervisors this week that the committee has met weekly since its appointment and has reviewed with Donald Spencer, personnel director, the air pollution control engineer job description.

"We are in agreement with his evaluation of this position and appreciate his desire to expedite recruitment," said Middleton, "but when employed he can only act intelligently with rules and regulations as a basis of operation. We request that you instruct county counsel to meet with us every Wednesday for an indefinite period to aid us in the preparation of rules and regulations for the Riverside County Air Pollution Control District."

THE SUPERVISORS expressed appreciation of the interest shown by the committee and voted unanimously to instruct county counsel to have someone from his office at the committee sessions. County Counsel Ray T. Sullivan, Jr., declared, "It is unfortunate that the man best equipped to do this can't take on any more work than he already has, but we will do the best we can and will certainly have someone at all the meetings."

THE COMMITTEE reported that a drawing of straws had resulted in two-year terms for Dr. Middleton, well known authority on smog control who resides in Riverside. Horace Miller of Blythe, and Antoinette Fleschner and Victor Brittain of Riverside; and one-year terms for Thelma Goodspeed of Riverside, Faith Deuprey of Temecal, and Joseph Stinchcomb of Moreno. Horace Miller has been named vice chairman, and Faith Deuprey, secretary.

The supervisors accepted the resignation of Brittain, and named Chesney Woodill of Riverside to replace him.

Some 30 Palm Springs High School students will be among 1,000 high school junior and seniors invited to University Day at Redlands University Saturday.

The day's program features a preview of university life and closes with a championship play-off between the University of Redlands Bulldogs and the Whittier Poets at Currier Gymnasium.

The basketball game will be preceded by lighting of the big Redlands "R" emblazoned on a nearby mountain side.

BILLY GRAY, "America's Ambassador of Good Will," will headline the new show at the Chi Chi Starlite Room Friday night. Others on the "All Evers and Dolores."

Billy Gray to Headline New Chi Chi Starlite Room Show

"America's Ambassador of Good Will," comedian Billy Gray, opens a new show at the Chi Chi Starlite room tomorrow night.

The show, scheduled to run through March 4, features singer Kay Cee Jones, Decca recording star.

Also appearing is the "dancing in the air" team of Evers and Dolores.

NOW PROPRIETOR of Hollywood's famed Band Box, Billy Gray has romped through some of the nation's top night spots in what practically amounts to a lifetime of satirical comedy.

Heard on such radio programs as the Eddie Cantor and Abbott and Costello shows, Gray has built up a fast-paced repertoire of satire. Included in his portfolio are such items as his "Cohen Mutiny," "My Fairfax Lady" and "Person to Person."

GRAY, ONETIME law school graduate of Creighton University, leaped into the theatrical spotlight by opening his own club, a stepping stone to his popular Band Box.

Kay Cee Jones, a five-foot, 98-pound bundle of Texas pulchritude, has scored heavily with an amazing vocal versatility. Her range runs from "horse opera to grand opera."

MISS JONES, who swings from rollicking songs of the Twenties to the softly-murmured ballads of "Sayonara," the Japanese farewell song. She recently completed a six-week engagement at the Los Angeles Biltmore and penned a new contract with Decca.

Evers and Dolores have captured critical acclaim from New Orleans to San Francisco with a stunning dance act aboard a thin wire. They recently appeared on the Ed Sullivan TV show.

'Tired' Carp

SODUS BAY, N.Y. — Three men fishing in Lake Ontario decided to investigate when they spotted a submerged tire moving. They dragged the tire out and found a 30-pound carp with its head wedged in one side of the tire casing and tail wedged in the other side.

International Synonym for "Achievement"!

Mention the name "Cadillac" wherever you will—and in whatever part of the civilized world you might be—and you will find a common meeting-ground of understanding.

It is, in brief, a world-wide synonym for personal achievement!

And this is, we think, entirely logical. For over the years, the Cadillac car has played a vital role in the lives of so many of the leading citizens of every community where motor cars are seen.

Cadillac is, in fact, the almost predictable choice of those who choose without restriction.

This, of course, is not to say that a motorist need necessarily possess an abundance of this world's goods in order to enjoy the great and unduplicated satisfactions of Cadillac ownership.

Consider, for instance, the economy of buying a Cadillac. Several models are actually priced competitively with much smaller, lighter cars.

Consider the practical aspects of driving a Cadillac. The car is remarkably economical from a standpoint of both maintenance and operation.

And lastly, think of the wisdom of owning a Cadillac. Year after year, Cadillac returns a greater share of its owner's original investment than any other motor car in the land.

In other words, wisdom and practicality can lead you to the "car of cars" just as surely as prominence and prosperity.

We suggest that you come in soon—that you spend an hour at the wheel—and that you delay no longer in making the magic move to Cadillac.

We'll be looking for you—soon.
